Description :

PDF-c0cec | Areas of limestone outcrop are widely distributed throughout England and Wales and this is reflected in their rich diversity of karst landscapes and cave systems. Indeed, some of the most spectacular natural landscapes in Britain are karstic, and have provided geomorphologists with classic areas of study. As well as a general description of the nature and origin of karsts and caves, this vo... Karst and Caves of Great Britain (Geological Conservation Review Series)
