Description :

PDF-a763d | After the Revolution, Americans abandoned the political economy of self-denial and sacrifice that had secured their independence. In its place, they created one that empowered the modern citizen-consumer. This profound transformation was the uncoordinated and self-serving work of merchants, manufacturers, advertisers, auctioneers, politicians, and consumers themselves, who collectively created the... Luxurious Citizens: The Politics of Consumption in Nineteenth-Century America (America in the Nineteenth Century)
